Just as sports and fashions are regulated by the seasons, so is our school year. The fall is a time for beauty in nature but the autumn season means a time of new faces and gridiron excitement for MPHS students. While a blanket of snow covers the ground, students are busy with such activities as Christmas door decorating, the Choir and Band Variety Show and the start of a new semester. The cinder track is not the only road to glory during the spring. Many students receive their recognition through the Honors Assembly. As a climax to their years in high school, the seniors gladly go through the traditions of baccalaureate and commencement.

FALL

The first day of school,
A new building,
New people,
Somebody hands you a schedule,
Lockers open

You walk in an endless circle . . .

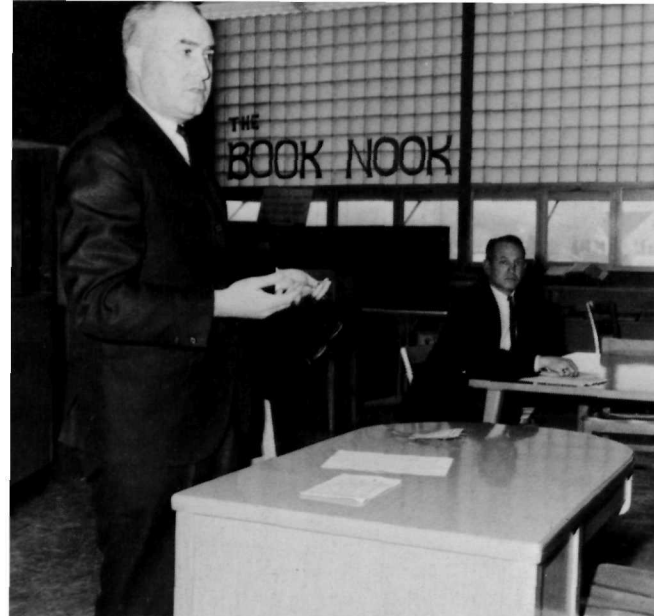

A Friday afternoon
Slow moving cars,
Chicken wire,
Kleenex,
The Queen,
A football sails through the air . . .
A Queen is crowned,

Homecoming is over,

One lone leaf—falling . . .
The first snow flake—drifting . . .

Fall—the Sophomores

Our new superintendent, Mr. Carlo Barberi, speaks at one of the faculty meetings this year.

At right, Mr. Durrell Emling, principal, ponders one of the many ideas pointed out during the discussion.

School Leaders Act on Matters From Report

Mr. Lornie Kerr, assistant principal, looks over one of the pamphlets on the school bond issue.

This year the administration has worked on a new student progress report system that will be put in use during the 1964-5 school year. The new system will cut down on the time-consuming clerical work of the teachers and will provide a compact, permanent record of the student's progress.

There will be a tablet of seven color-keyed papers for each class, allowing the grade to be marked on the top sheet and preserved on the lower sheets. The top sheet will then be taken off and given to the student. For each successive marking period, all the previous grades will be shown.

The system is now being used at many other high schools.

Cards to $4,000,000 Building Proposal

Harry Ormiston, Mr. Fred Turner, Mr. Milton Brown, Dr. Leo Wickert and Mr. Eugene Knight.

Vocational Coordinator, Mr. Lee Jones, aids many students each year.

Success . . . Skill and Precision

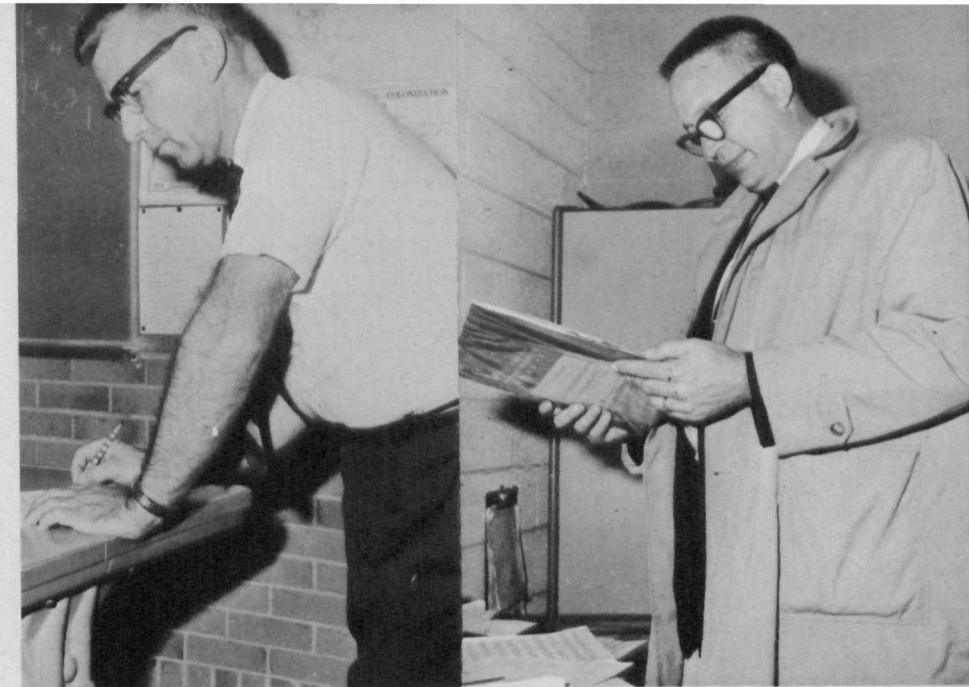

Business Department head, L. J. Ross (left), finds time for a little relaxation after a busy day while Mrs. Eleanor McCracken, business instructor, carries her textbook with her as she leaves the classroom. Business classes taught by Mrs. Gertrude Forsman and Mrs. Pat Herron (below, center and right) are enjoyed by many MPHS students.

Our Ladders To Success

Mr. Floyd Heydenburg (left) and Mr. Steve Wolf, both of the Music Department, are shown consulting similar material—music scores.

Students receive topnotch advice from Mr. Ray Rosevear, testing director.

Framed by shelves of books, Mrs. Mary Lou Evett, school librarian, prepares new entries for the card catalog.

Mr. Reed McGee is shown reading recent articles which aid him in counseling students.

Gym instructor, Mr. Richard Nicolazzi, is caught looking over notebooks done by his tenth grade students.

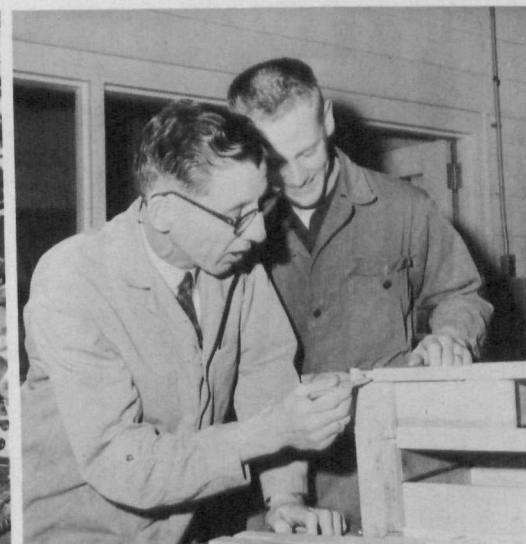

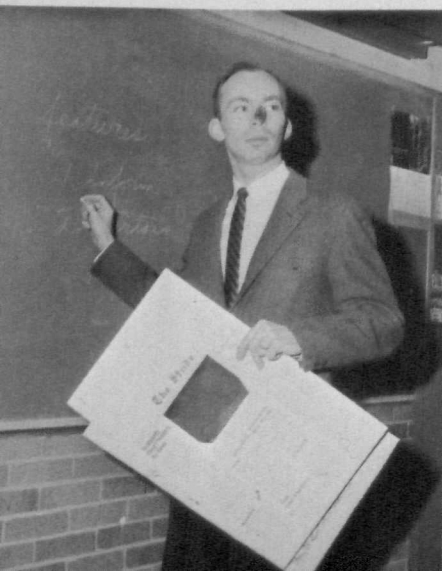

When not involved in one of the many extra-curricular activities, Mr. Gene Duckworth can be found in the Speech or English rooms.

Mrs. Nancy Telfer, English teacher, is always there when help is needed in literature or grammar.

It Takes More Than Readin' and Writin'

Miss Ruby Meis and Mrs. Eleanor McCrimmon, both of the Homemaking Department, are busy at their desks correcting test papers. Oil painting, commercial art, and sculpture are three of the areas covered in Mr. Irving Kidd's art classes.

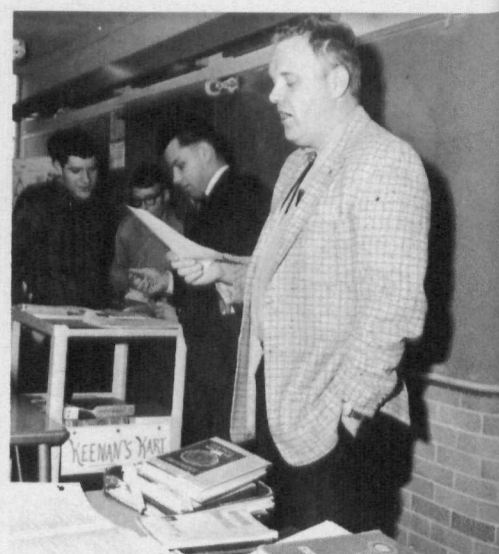

Mr. Virgil Davis (below) teaches mechanical drawing in the vocational wing.

Math instructors, Mr. Dean Kreiner, Mr. Bobb Wardrop, and Mr. Bob Lippert, teach students that two plus two isn't always four—not in base numbers anyway!

Space Age Emphasizes Science, Mathematics

Mrs. Marge Deibel, Mr. Dick Tesman, and Mr. Fred Goodell teach Chemistry, Physics and Biology. While dividing his time between the junior and senior high, Mr. Hudson Keenan (center right) teaches two Biology I classes.

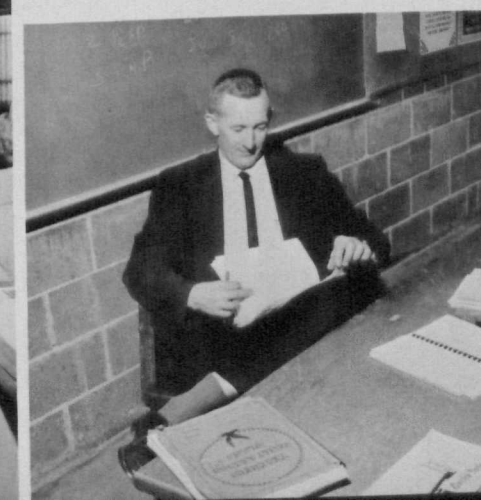

Shifting between classrooms, Miss Sue Breidenstein teaches French I and II. Mrs. Elmine Sweet (above, right) instructs English and Latin I and II.

Planning, filing, correcting tests and typing are all in a day's work for Mrs. Myrtie Bowerman, Mr. Wally Moore, Mr. Pete Sira and Mr. Charles Mueller, all of the Social Science Department (top to bottom, right).

Staff Reflects Variety Of Broad Curriculum

Gym instructor Mrs. Jean Murray uses the aid of films to teach health education. Mr. Jack Greenan (center) educates Agriculture students in the vocational wing.

Oiler Gridders Finish Season With

Traverse City opposition proves too much for senior end, John Rolph, as a pass topples through his fingertips.

Junior Ron Carrick and another Oiler stop Tim Majerle, Cadillac's leading ground gainer, for no gain as Bill Gruss and Al Kile come up to help.

Although the season's results were not the best on record, the players made good showings in all the games.

Inexperience and injury plagued the club all season long. With a completely new line replacing last year's seniors, and Leroy Grace and Phil Freeze injured, the team proceeded into the losing season.

The leading kicker and pass interceptor was John Rolph. John also had a punting average of 39.4 while his longest punt was 56 yards. Bruce Ball received the most passes from leading passer Robbie Flynn.

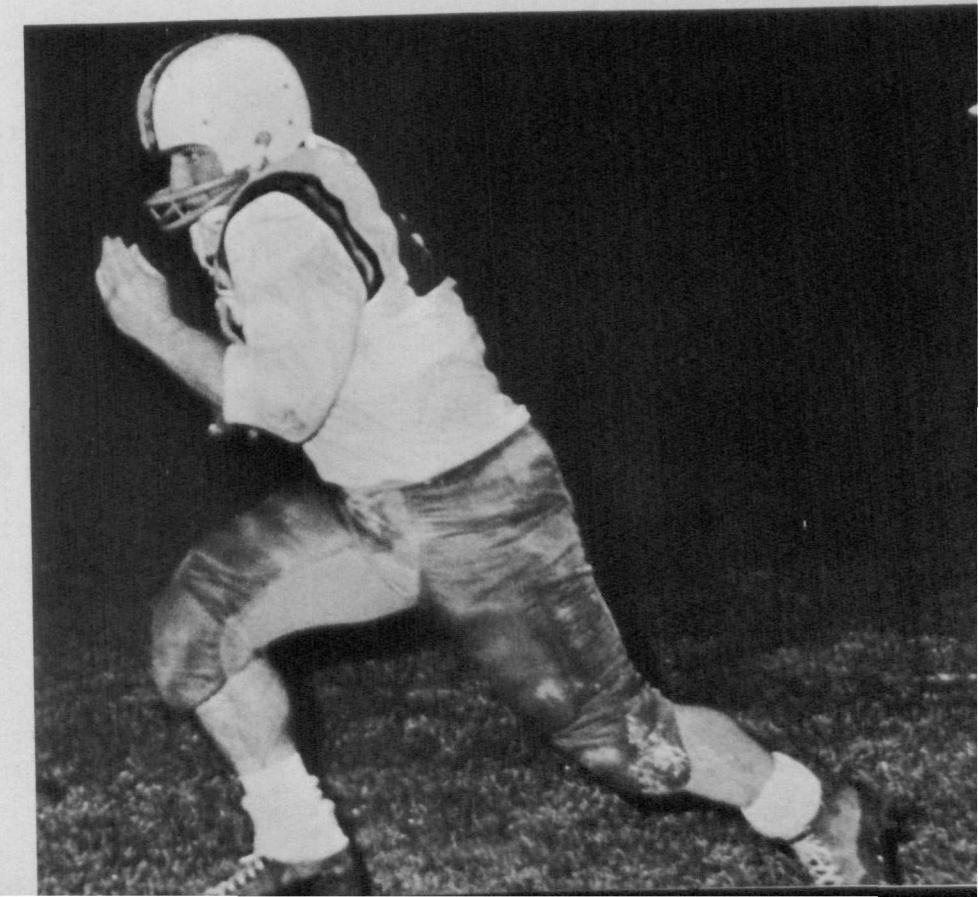

The tackling hopes for next year lie with Bill Gruss, Al Kile, and Ed Spitsbergen.

Final congratulations by coach Richard Nicolazzi are received by Leroy Grace, Bruce Ball and Bob Willoughby, all-conference.

Only One Victory--Over Manistee

Charging 74 yards down the field, fullback Leroy Grace becomes the leading ground gainer and top scorer for the second season.

Cross Country Boasts Record Season

Running to another victory are Oilers' number two and three men Lynn Smith and Ray Van Buskirk.

In his seventh year as cross country coach, Fred Goodell's varsity squad compiled a 6-0 record.

Throughout the season the boys showed great team spirit and determination. Outstanding performances were given by Gale Neff, Lynn Smith, Ray Van Buskirk and Dennis Starner.

The team's deciding factor in their victories must have been coach Fred Goodell, because at the Lansing Regionals the boys ran out of breath without the presence of their bedridden coach.

Next year's hopes lie in the hands of John McClintic, Larry Robinson and two-year letter-winner Dan Straley.

In appreciation for all the work he had done to make their fine record possible the team represented by Lynn Smith presented Coach Fred Goodell with a trophy.

Demonstrating the style of a winning runner is number one cross country man Gale Neff who set the school record for the two mile at 10:06.5.

"Connie for Queen" reads one of the campaign cars just before the election.

Seniors work furiously to carry out the design proposed by Jim Gould.

Ceremony And Excitement Are

The Varsity Club has their own unique way of building their float, "Let's box em up."

Queen Connie was presented an autographed football by the players. This was the start of her reign over many joyous activities.

Sue Krapohl, Marilyn Crowley, and Jan LaBelle were three of the recent Homecoming Queens to reign at MPHS.

The fall background makes a lovely contrast as the Queen and her court progress through town.

Bywords For M.P.H.S.

Hilarity was shown by the senior skit in following the Roman and Greek mythology theme.

"King Neptune," designed and made by the senior class, showed ingenuity and many hours of hard work.

A "Big Kiss" was given to Queen Connie by football captain John Rolph.

All the excitement is displayed in the image of the apprehensive Queen.

Weeks Of Work--Over In A Weekend

A new goal for the classes to work for was added this year, "The Best Class Award." Points were given for the loudest cheering class at the assembly, winner of the skits, first and second float prizes, and the class count at the football game. The senior class took every point except that given for the skits. The trophy, top hat, and medalion were given to the senior class president, John Rolph, at the mixer after Friday's game.

Senior class president, John Rolph, and advisor, Elmine Sweet, proudly display the Best Class Trophy.

The Queen and her court and their escorts take the floor after the coronation.

The Swinging Chips give out a good beat at the Queen's Ball.

Selected in the spring, the cheerleaders spent the summer training for the strenuous months ahead. All of the varsity and some of the J.V. cheerleaders attended Camp All-American, Hartland, Michigan, where they pitted their cheerleading skills against others from Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Pennsylvania. They placed a proud fourth. During their four days of work and fun, they learned many new ideas for cheers, songs, chants, and pep assemblies. Later, the summer sun found the girls at CMU's Cheerleading Clinic. Here they jotted down routines and pep assembly sparklers in their bulging notebooks.

Students Spirited By Pep Club Projects

If a person wanted to single out one club that does a real service to the school, the Pep Club would be the one. All year long it informs and entertains the students. In the fall, showcases are put up to welcome the sophomores to the school. The showcases are also used to raise the school spirit for the cross country and football teams. Everything from exam schedules to Christmas decorations is exhibited during the winter. The club also sponsors buses to all away football and basketball games. Spring finds the club busy with spring sports exams and tournaments. Mr. Bob Lippert is the adviser. The Cheboygan "Chiefs" haven't a chance when the MPHS Pep Club is pulling for the Oilers, with such officers as Diane Lewis, Glenora Hoyle, and Joanne Gall.

WWMP Makes Debut as Student Voice

Interviews of visiting personalities and students making the news are covered by WWMP. Here manager Tim Moore talks with Derrick editor Barb Krapohl.

Favorable response has been heard from both CMU students and townspeople toward WWMP, MPHS' student radio station. Everything from Broadway hits to the Top Forty is heard weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5:30. Instead of paid advertising being used, public service announcements are presented. Interviews, taped athletic events and features vary WWMP's schedule. Most of the equipment used by the six DJs was donated. A major item, the transmitter, was given by CMU. WWMP is operated through the cooperation of the speech department and advised by Mr. Gene Duckworth.

Defense-Minded Wildcats Win 5 of 7

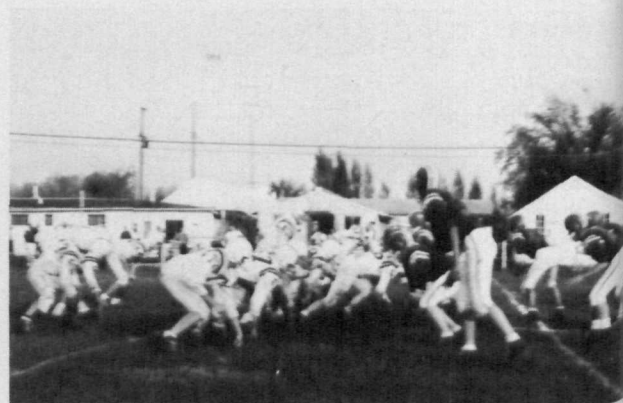

A Wildcat back is gang tackled after skirting right end for short yardage.

Defense was the key to another successful season for Coach Dean Kreiner's Wildcats. Playing a traditionally rough schedule, Coach Kreiner received outstanding performances from Chris Alstaetter, Ted Felter, Rodney Huffman, Larry Rahl, Van Williams, and Fred Juhnke. The leading ball carrier for the sophs was Phil Cook. To the relief of Coach Kreiner, Bob Bissell, a key defensive player, stepped in and took over at quarterback when offensive ace Ken Bovee was injured in a freak locker room accident. Varsity Coach Nicolazzi should find some help at quarterback and in the defensive secondary in this year's crop of sophomores.

Sportsmanship Stressed by 'V' Club

Secretary Lynn Smith, advisor Richard Nicolazzi, Vice President Leroy Grace, and President Bob Bucher prepare for Varsity Club's annual car wash.

Every two weeks, a group of devoted athletes, known as the Varsity Club, meets to discuss topics pertaining to sports. The club is open to any boy who has earned a varsity letter in any major sport. The meeting consists of current business problems and other matters that might come up during the two-week span. During the football and basketball seasons a boy who does not participate in these sports is chosen to be an usher for the home games.

Also included during the year's activities was the annual car wash and the sponsoring of a football mixer.

To win first prize in the religious division of the door decoration contest, Mr. Tom Northway's General English II class created this scene.

Giant Tree Spreads

Traditional decorations filled the front lobby, where boxes under the tree provided students the opportunity to donate canned goods for the area's needy families.

"A Partridge in a Pear Tree," which decorated Mr. Durell Embling's door, received an honorable mention.

Christmas Spirit Through M.P.H.S.

Christmas was "carried out" by Mr. Gene Duckworth.

At the annual assembly, several students gave tribute to Christmas, including a Bible reading by Bob Kennett.

Mr. Bobb Wardrop's Trig class used their mathematic skills to figure out how to win first prize in the contemporary division of the decoration contest.

Constitution Approved by Students

Several firsts were achieved by the Student Council this year. One of these was the use of the Student Exchange Fund. Tom Minack, the German exchange student, used this money for books and school expenses. This fund gets its revenue from the Twirp Week activities. A second accomplishment was the revision and adoption of the constitution. Firsts were also made in the activities of Homecoming and Twirp Week.

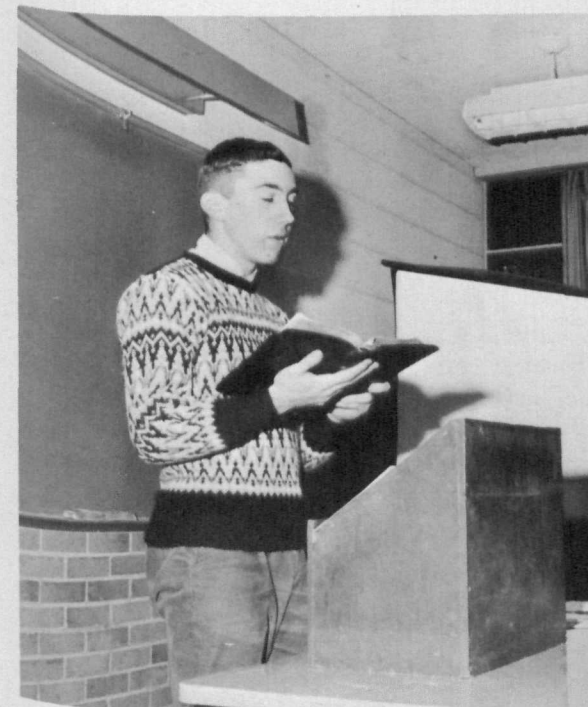

The constitution revision committee, headed by Bill vonReichbauer and Jim Mikus, worked hard all year on the project.

Hi-Y Back After Year's Absence

Devotions are an important part of every Hi-Y meeting as demonstrated by president Bill vonReichbauer.

The Mt. Pleasant High School Hi-Y Chapter was reactivated with the help of Mr. John Wolf, state YMCA secretary, and the Hi-Y officers, Bill vonReichbauer, president; DeWayne Oberlander, vice president; Mike Clark, secretary; and Don Marks, treasurer.

In December, the Hi-Y sent four delegates to the Youth Legislature at the state capitol. They were Mike Clark, Jim Gould, Sandy Hepler and Bob White.

"Land of the Midnight Sun," the prom, was a joint project by both the Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y. The clubs shared expenses and work with Joanne Gall and Jim Gould in charge.

On April 12, "United Nations Day" was held at Clare High School. It was organized to acquaint Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y members in the northern district with the workings of the UN.

Dramatists Stage One-Act Five Times

This year's Dramatics Club was far from a do-nothing club although they did not produce a major play. A play was produced, though—"These Are Not Children." It presented the problems of mental retardation and rehabilitation. The play was given five times during the year to interested groups, such as a CMU class, the Home and Family Living Class, the Council for Exceptional Children, the Child Guidance Clinic and the Mt. Pleasant High School Dramatics Club.

In one of the recent productions of the play, "These Are Not Children," Diane Lewis and Bill Mayhew attempt to show some of the emotion of the drama.

Duckworth Heads Thespians and Debate

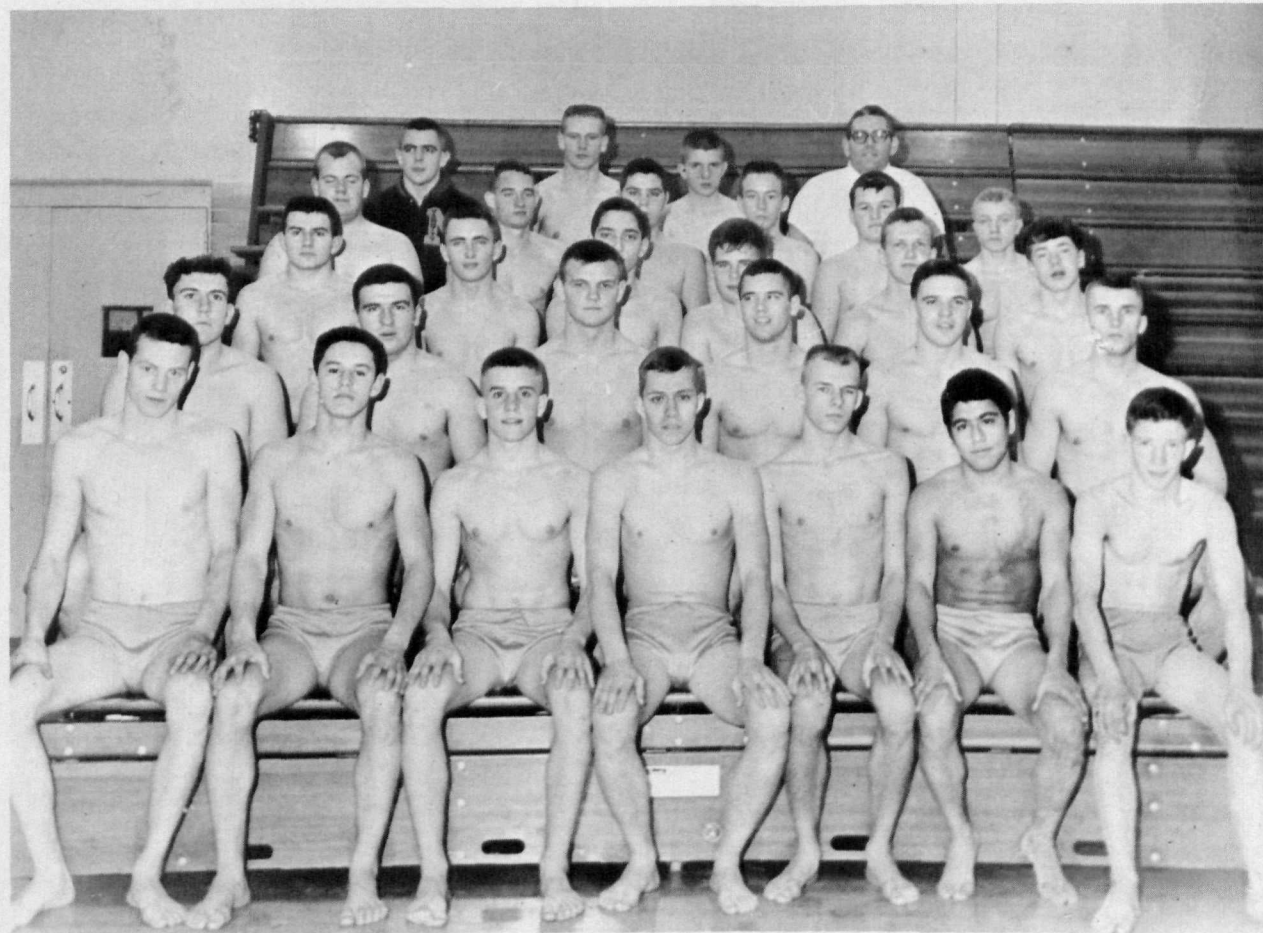

The Thespian Troupe is an honorary society composed of students with theatrical interests. A total of ten points must be earned by the Dramatics Club member to qualify for membership. Points are given not only for parts in the productions but also for all the preparation that has to be done.

Past experience from returning debaters played a large role in the debaters' excellent year. Besides winning 15 out of 16 contests during the season, they were able to capture the local league championship and receive their eighth debate plaque. The affirmative team was Don Marks and Bob Knapp. The negative team was Doug Dehn, Brian Long and George Wilson.

Freeze Receives 'Best Wrestler' Award

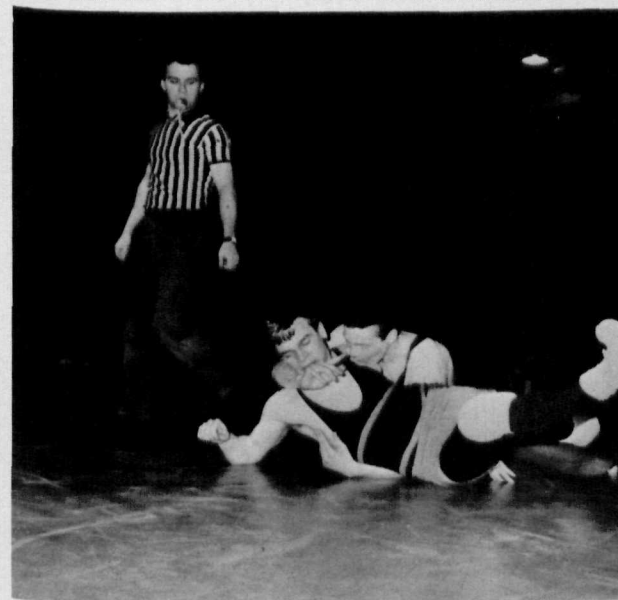

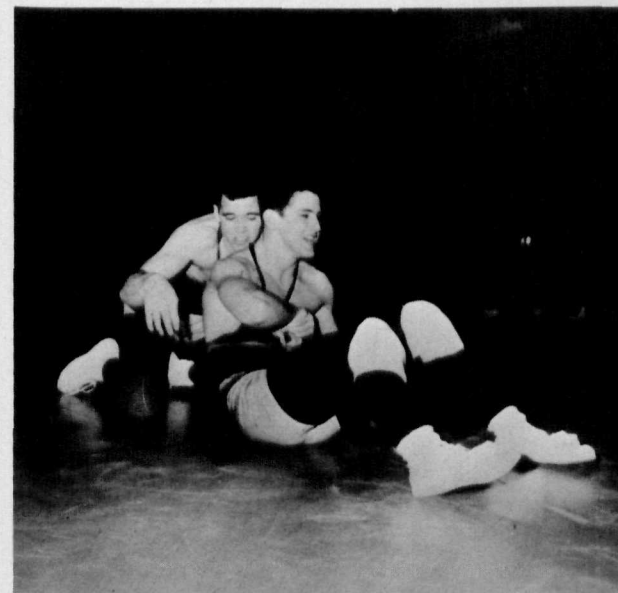

In their third year, Coach Richard Nicolazzi's wrestlers have risen from a record of 0-9 to the present record of 7-4-1. Coach Nicolazzi said the reason for the victorious season was the aggressive team spirit and effort from every individual. Next year the matmen will face a new coach because Mr. Nicolazzi is going to Milwaukee, Wisconsin, to teach.

Undefeated in dual meets at 154 pounds, Phil Freeze shows his style as he attempts to pin his man from Alma.

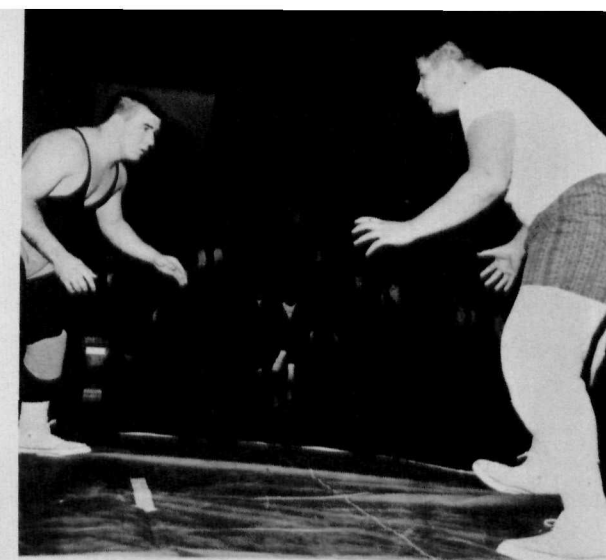

At 190 pounds, heavyweight Leroy Grace faces his opponent for the evening, 317-pound heavyweight from Buena Vista. After Leroy won the match, he was quoted as saying that speed was the determining factor.

Senior Lynn LaBrecque, wrestling in 165-weight class, begins to counter a sitout move made by an Alma matman.

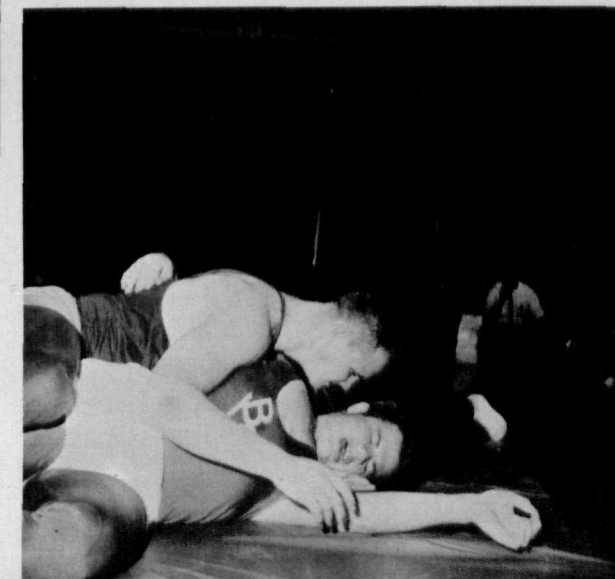

Supporting a strong 10-1-1 record in dual meets is Dick Nethers at 145 pounds.

Punch and cookies add the finishing touches for any dance or prom. Kim Swan, Bill Gruss, and his date, Jackie Demlow, can vouch for that.

"Twas the Night Before Christmas" and all through the evening of December 14, a holiday crowd enjoyed themselves at the Junior Prom. The unique decorations created the illusion of a log cabin with crepe paper walls and roof. Snow-laden Christmas trees lined the outside of the cabin and Frosty the Snowman looked on as couples danced. A giant sled holding Chuck Croke's Combo further enhanced the atmosphere.

Tri-Hi-Y Presents Bill at Lansing

The largest girl's club, Tri-Hi-Y, went through the school year with a good variety of programs. Judy Wood, Joanne Gall, Connie Huber and Jan Batson were the delegates to the Youth Legislature. The bill the girls presented pertained to court placement of emotionally-disturbed youngsters and was passed in committee only to be defeated in the House.

Programs, headed by Bette Nash, were informative and interesting to the members. Some of these were Rev. Robert Smith's talk on developing a philosophy of life, another talk by two women of Alcoholics Anonymous, a white elephant sale to raise money for world service. In April Tom Minack, German exchange student, compared the United States to Germany and made some very interesting conclusions.

Many Honors Received by Oiler Team

Proudly showing off the team's trophies are John Rolph, Joe Piwowarczyk, Rick Massick, and Coach Charles "Bud" Mueller.

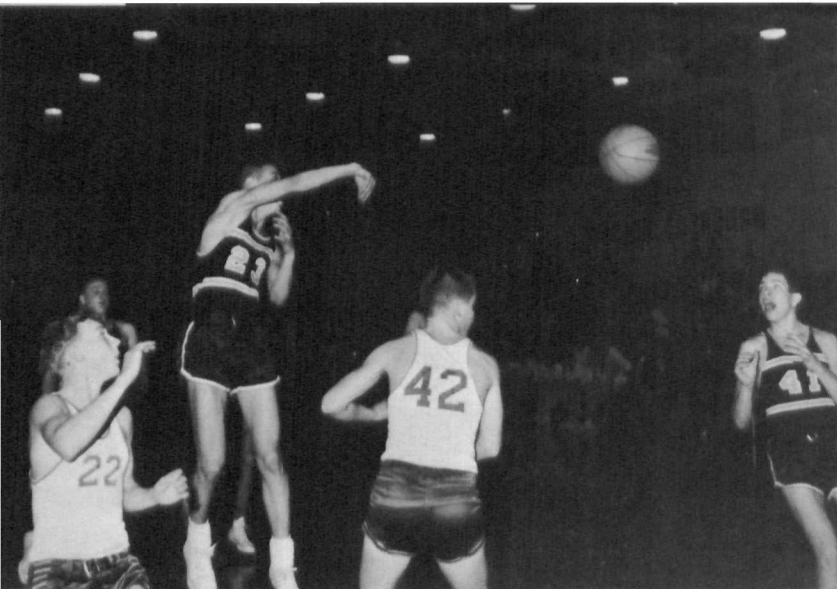

Awards were busting out all over this year as the MPHS basketball team fought its way to an 11-8 record, the best in three years.

Three boys, John Rolph, Rick Massick, and Joe Piwowarczyk, were honored for their fine work during the season. John Rolph was given a first team position in the Conference, County and All Saginaw Area Teams. First team All County, second team All Conference and Honorable Mention All Saginaw Area were received by senior guard Rick Massick. Also doing a fine job and receiving Honorable Mention in all three positions was junior Joe Piwowarczyk.

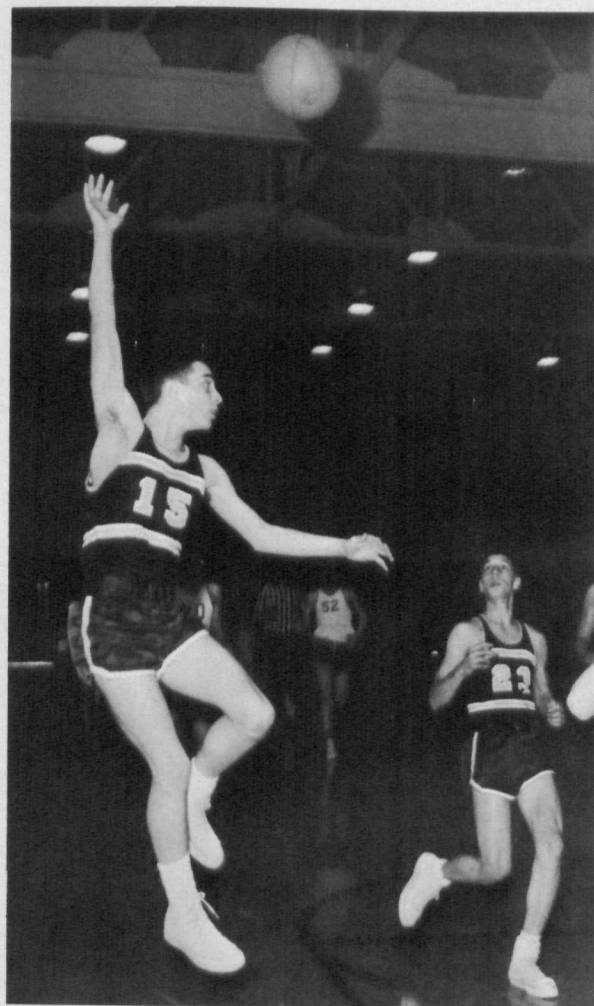

The Oilers advanced to the district tournament and defeated Alma and Midland for the title and trophy.

One more unexpected honor landed in the hands of the Oilers when the Saginaw News presented the team with a trophy signifying that the Oilers were the best class A team in the Saginaw area.

A hook pass from Jim Fortino to Larry Rahl provided for another Wildcat basket.

Scoring two more valuable points for the junior varsity is forward Butch Alterman.

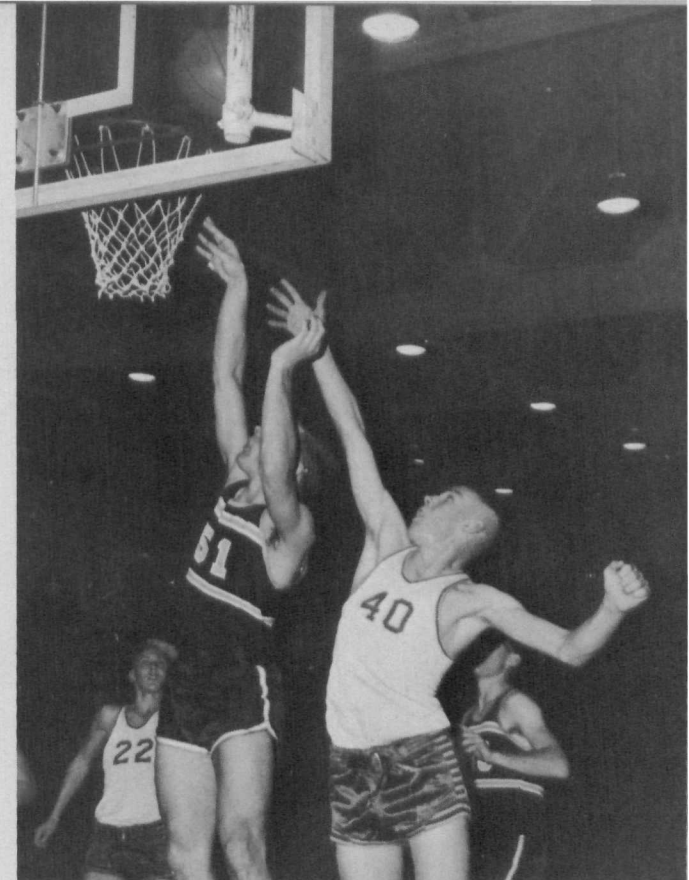

Fast-breaking guard Bob Bissell passes to forward Phil Cook for an easy two points.

The key to the Wildcat victories this year was the quickness and agility with which the players moved the ball. What the team lacked in height, they made up for in hustle which Coach Dave Goodell drilled into them at every practice.

Leading scorer was Larry Rahl with an average of 17 points a game. Also sparkplugging the team, with fine backcourt play, was Bob Bissell, Jim Fortino, Kim Rank and Phil Cook. Support also came from the bench. Goodell always could depend on his subs to come in and do the job he wanted.

The team had a record of 10 wins and 6 defeats, losing only to Manistee, Saginaw Douglas MacArthur and twice to Ludington and Traverse City.

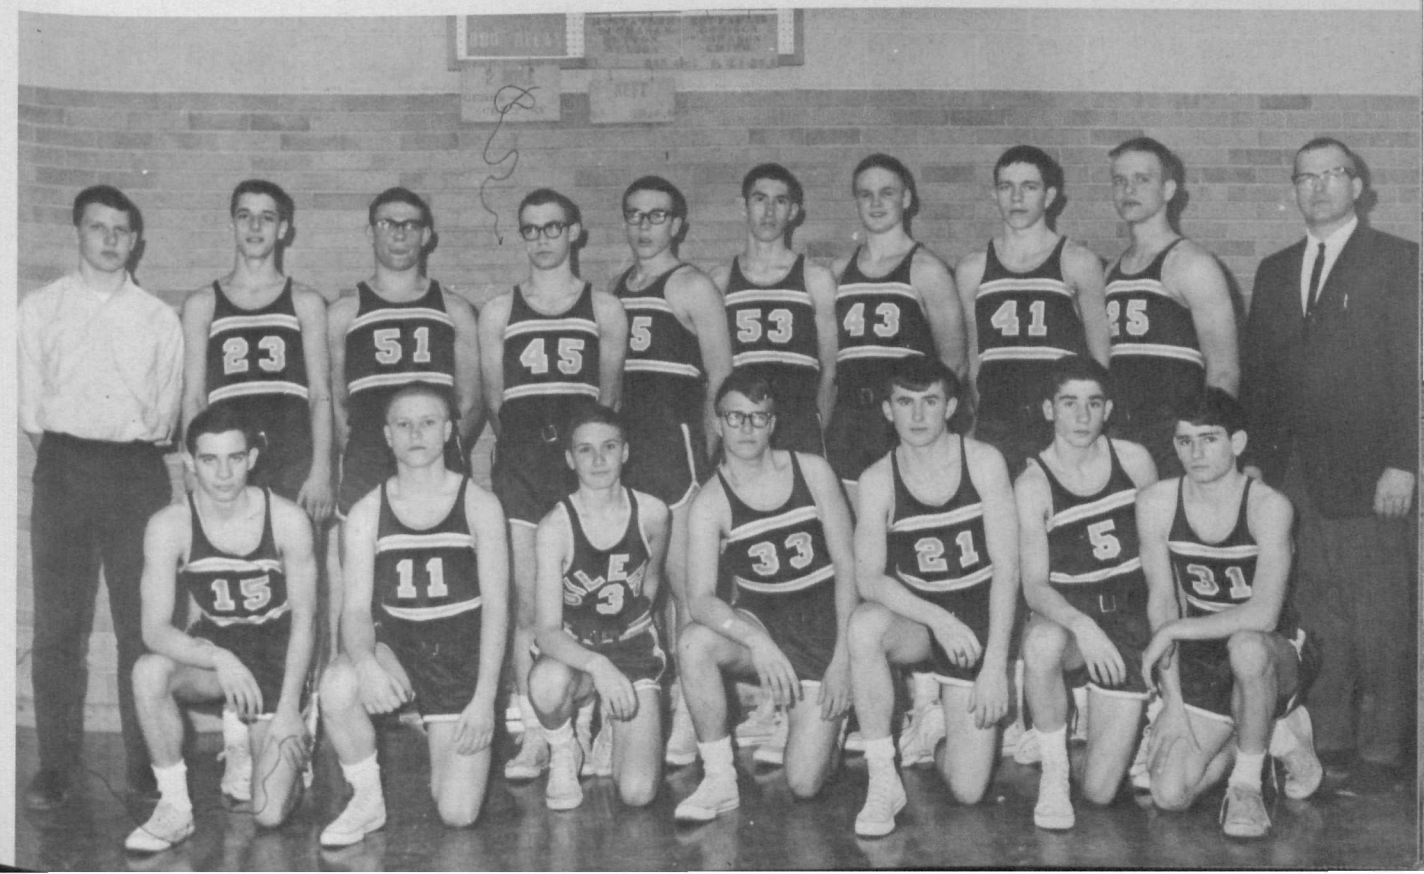

Phil Cook tallies more points as he goes up over the outstretched arm of a Manistee player.

Cookbooks Raise $200 for College Fund

Showing Mrs. McCrimmon their prizes for selling the most cookbooks are Mary Archey, Linda Robert and Ann Post.

Two hundred dollars raised by the small Future Homemakers of America chapter will go to help a girl achieve an education after high school. Like other chapters in Michigan, the local group sold cookbooks to friends and relatives. The proceeds went into a college scholarship fund for one girl chosen from all the chapters. The cookbooks come in three varieties: Salad, Dessert, Meat.

Corn Project Major FFA Activity

The DeKalb Award was presented by FFA adviser Mr. Jack Greenan to top farmer, Ben Ball.

With the fine leadership from Ken Mathews, president; Tad Robertson, vice president; Rick Swindlehurst, treasurer; Ben Ball, secretary; Bruce Ball, reporter, and Don Thering, sentinel, the Future Farmers of America gained much knowledge through experience in the area of agriculture.

The major project was the planting of seven acres of corn behind the school. When the yearly epidemic of dandelions was about to hit the school, the FFA boys sprayed to help combat the condition. A lot of time was also spent at the MPHS school forest pruning and cleaning up.

The club does not stop its activities when school ends. A camping trip to Glen Lake is planned and next year's officers are going to attend a leadership training camp at Sand Lake to insure another active year for the FFA.

GAA Has Complete Sports Program

A full program of intramural sports was sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Association. The activities were held three days during the week after school. The girls played field hockey, tumbled and bowled. Basketball and softball were played against different schools in the area. During the regular meetings, the club played badminton, volleyball, basketball and softball. Officers for the year were Nancy Zinn, president; Linda Frank, vice president; Barb Randolph, secretary, and Katha Starner, treasurer.

Archery was one of the many fall sports played by the GAA.

Coming from Hamburg, West Germany, Tom Minack has made many friendships and has come to understand the American way of life. Tom is here as an exchange student, under the direction of the Michigan Council of Churches. His visit began late in August, 1963, and he returned to his home July 26.

Tom was active in the activities of MPHS. He was manager of the basketball team, in the senior play, and a member of Student Council and Hi-Y.

After finishing a final year in high school at home, Tom plans to go to a school specializing in the old languages.

Exchange student Tom Minack finds his room a good place to study.

SPRING—THE SENIORS

The snow is gone,
Now there is mud, flowers, spring fever—
Another week to finish your term paper,
You can't, but somehow you make it

And then the Senior Play
You worked hard, every night, but it was fun . . .

There is always something ahead,
Your work is never done
And your plans are not yet completed.
But there are diversions—

The senior prom
The senior trip for some

One day is very important,
You sit and listen
Then they give it to you and you are free

But for what?

That was your decision.
Whether or not you made it,
You won't forget—the people, the place, the year

Tennis Team Drops 8 of 9 Matches

Coach Bub Mueller shows a critical eye to Mike Grove as he shows the Oiler mentor his serve.

To say the least, the tennis team did not have the best year on record. The final count was one win and eight defeats. The reason was not lack of experience. The team had six returning lettermen, Mike Grove, A. J. Traines, Fred Gaul, Bill Beckett, Jim Bailey and Al Pagels.

The team had enthusiasm and a good following at the matches so this is not the answer. Some of the problem may be the bad courts on which the boys have to practice and play the matches. The Island Park courts have cracks, split backstops, and metal nets.

One of the tennis players rationalized by commenting, "We sure had fun."

Golfers End 11-2 Duel, 28-8 Overall

Right: Number one man on the golf team, Bill Jakad demonstrates to next year's team how to make that putt. Below: Senior Daryl Mumford is determined to smash the ball down the fairway.

When asked what the highlight of the year was, Coach Bobb Wardrop stated he considered the Traverse City triumph just that. In fact, all season the boys shot good golf. Bill Jakad ended with an average of 76 while Bob Wender, a junior, was shooting an 82 average. At the conference meet in Ludington, the team finished third out of 16 teams. This qualified the top four players for the state meet. The boys did not do so well and ended in thirteenth place out of eighteen teams.

2 MPHS Co-ops Win State Offices

The Co-op Club offers jobs in nursing, accounting, store management, printing, hair styling and many other professions.

Members receive one school credit per semester while on the job. Co-op qualifications state the applicant must be 16 years of age, employable and on a job related to his classes.

In June, a banquet is held for the Co-ops and their employers. During the evening, the students receive a Vocational Certificate for future use as a job reference.

Jean Bertolissi, state Co-op secretary, and Jim Klosowski, vice president in charge of retailing, discuss their state offices.

Helping the JVs to such a fine record this year was junior pitcher Dave Bergman.

Tom York, one of the leading hitters for the JVs, raps out a home run to help his team to victory.

The Junior Varsity baseball team under the direction of coach Joe Epple compiled an incredible 11 win—2 loss record with single victories over Alma, Big Rapids, Midland, Buena Vista and Bridgeport.

Standouts of the season were first baseman Dave Connors, shortstop Jack Karr, catcher Tom York and pitcher Dave Bergman with an outstanding 5 win—0 loss record.

Three Oilers Qualify for State Meet

Kim Swan puts out his best effort of the season as he throws the shot 49'5".

A common sight around the 880 finish line coming in first and second, respectively, are Gale Neff and Phil Freeze.

Oiler sprinters Bill Gruss and Jon Ormiston are not fast enough as the Buena Vista runner beats them to the tape.

Four records were shattered this year by the MPHS trackmen. Gale Neff broke the mile twice and at the conference meet in Ludington tied the record for the 880. Neff's time for the mile was 4.37.6; and he ran the 880 in 201.5. Also at the conference meet two more records were broken. Lynn Smith sprinted the 440 in 52.4, and the mile relay team Lynn Smith, Gale Neff, Phil Freeze, and Larry Bushong moved to a 3.36 time, the best in seven years. To keep up with the other members of the mile relay team, Freeze decided to break a record of his own and ran the 880 at the Saginaw Regional in record-breaking time of 200.1.

A surprise came this year from sophomore John Goffnett as he ran a 4.47 in the mile, which got him a third in the conference and is very good for a sophomore.

A new sales record of 440 Derricks was achieved in this year's sales campaign, surpassing the previous record of 435 books set by the 1957 Derrick staff. Advertisers subscribing to anything over a listing received a free Derrick. So the actual circulation of the 1964 Derrick was around 500.

In the spring, the advertising sales were slowed to a crawl. To help remedy this situation Mr. Tom Northway's journalism class went out during the class periods and completed the sales.

In July of 1963, Derrick editor Barb Krapohl attended MSU's Communication Arts Institute. For two weeks she worked with others in her field toward better year-books.

Problems seemed to plague editor Barb Krapohl as she attempted to make writers out of novices.

500 Attend Senior Government Day Here

Judge James O'Neill tells the visiting seniors to listen and discover facts about the government for they will soon be voting.

Over 500 Isabella County high school seniors attended Senior Government Day April 28 at MPHS. The students were divided into 13 discussion groups. Resource people for each group were assembled. After an address by guest speaker, Judge James O'Neill of the Saginaw Circuit Court, discussion consisting of questions from the seniors being answered by the resource people was moderated by Mr. Stanton Todd of Michigan State University.

Sectional meetings were held in the afternoon. Prominent questions from each group were then presented to the entire body. Blanchard, Beal City, Weidman, Sacred Heart and Mt. Pleasant were in attendance. MSU was in charge of the whole day.

Service and Fun Tell Story of NHS

"The water is fine," agree Bill vonReichbauer, Bob Knapp, and Connie Thompson at the club's annual picnic.

The main project of the National Honor Society is the Book Nook. Here students may purchase novels, dictionaries, or other interesting selections. This year saw the acquisition of new book stands which can be locked up to prevent losses after school.

Another service rendered by the NHS takes the form of a visit to the ninth grade civics classes to inform freshmen of social activities at the high school.

After a year of service to MPHS, Honor Society members traveled to Connie Thompson's cottage at Houghton Lake which was a cool way to wind up a busy year.

Mr. Durell Emling presents certificates of merit to seniors who have achieved a 3.5 average or better.

An annual event, the Honors Recognition Assembly was held on Friday, May 29. At this assembly, MPHS saluted students for scholastic achievements and services rendered. Recipients of scholarships and organization awards were also recognized.

Honored for her fourth place finish at the National Science Fair for the second straight year was Francie Cuthbert. Also recognized were student librarians and office assistants. Several students received special commendations and other service awards.

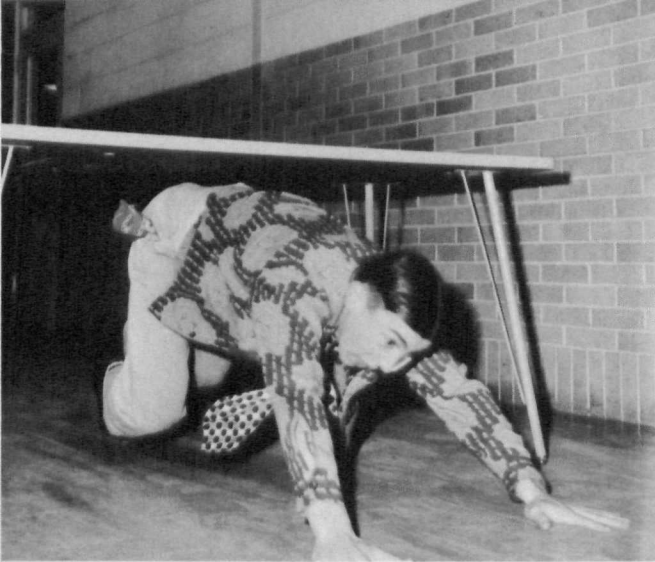

The guest speaker, Dr. Jane Bonnell, school psychologist from Grand Rapids, spoke of the changing role of women in our society. She also stressed the opportunities of today's youth in tomorrow's world.

No, mass poverty has not struck MPHS, but a barrel of fun has arrived during Twirp Week. This gave the gals their opportunity to get that man they had set their sights on. A profit of over $160 was made by the Student Council for the Student Exchange Fund.

Wednesday, April 29, all responsible citizens of Dogpatch attended an ol' fashioned talent show. Next, the "Surprise Night" found the weatherman disrupting the planned picnic. The highlight of the week, The Sadie Hawkins Dance, came Friday. A special feature was the square dance led by Joe Epple which left everyone gasping for breath. All in all, it was a real fine week.

Linda Clements slaps Rick Johnson for his getting fresh in the senior play, "Good News."

"The Best Things in Life are Free" is the philosophy that Pam Batchelder and John Rolph subscribe to in their duet.

First Musical Performed by Seniors

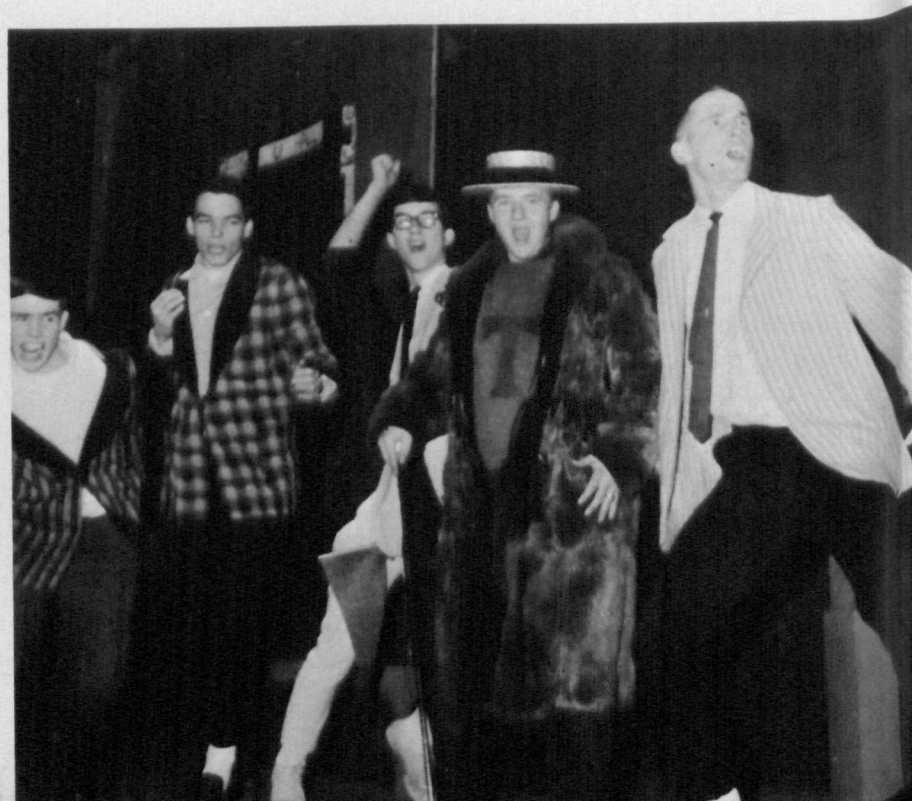

Several firsts were set with production of "Good News," by the seniors. On March 18 and 19 the cast, including the entire class, played to two capacity audiences. The class made a net profit of over $650.

Peg Dolson, Rick Johnson, Mame Hafer, Mike Grove, Bob Brigham, John Rolph and Pam Batchelder headed the list of cast members. The audience delighted in the dancing of the Varsity Drag by Connie Huber and Fred Gaul.

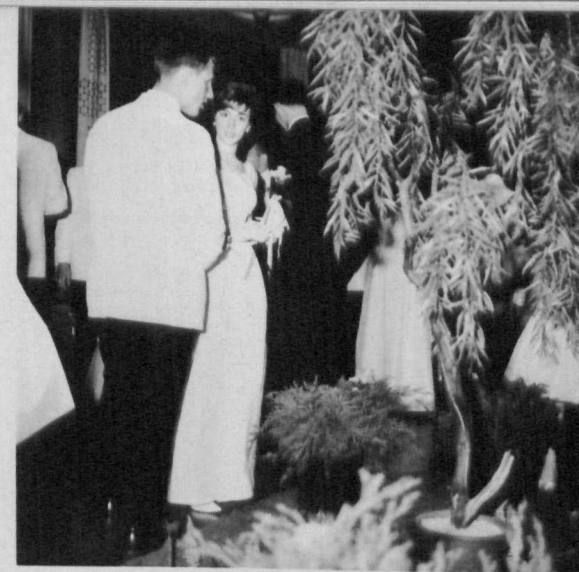

"Good News" included 21 musical numbers and seven scene changes.

Director Gene Duckworth was pleased with the job done by the seniors and the response shown by the community.

"Let's get him, boys" is the battle cry of Al Pagels, Greg Croftchik, Scott Beatty, Fritz Howe and John Rolph as they chase a poor unsuspecting freshman around the campus of Tait College in "Good News."

Next year's belles of the ball peer around a column at the CMU University Center at an elegantly dressed senior couple.

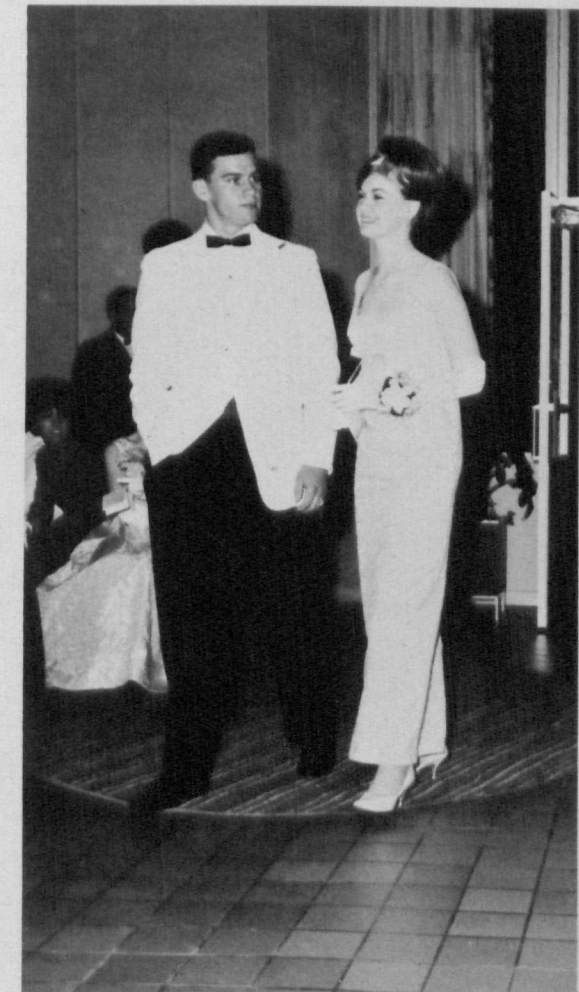

Decorations consisted of artificial trees and live shrubs. Here Jane Robinson and her date get a closer look.

Seniors Make Prom Start of Big Night

"Cotillion" was held in the University Center Ballroom with music provided by the Swinging Chips. After the prom, the seniors went to a pool, billiards and bowling party at the Pleasant Lanes, and the Hotel Chieftain. Open houses were then held at Paullins' and Ottemans'. The final activity of the night was the breakfast at the Country Club. A party at Barb Krapohl's cottage ended a weekend of lots of fun for the class of 1964.

Leroy Grace and his date, Bonnie Schertel, are caught leaving the prom after having enjoyed "Cotillion," May 29.

The style was definitely floor-length formals and white dinner jackets for this year's prom as Bill Newberry and Linda Clements demonstrate.

A happy smile is given by Sue Taylor as she ascends the steps to receive her diploma.

While the seniors feasted at their banquet, junior girls slaved.

'Granite Class'

"What's the Big Idea?" asks Reverend Robert Smith in his commencement address.

Reverend G. Edgar Schade, followed by Supt. Carlo Barberi and Mr. Ray Rosevear, leaves the gymnasium after his Baccalaureate sermon.

One of many seniors meeting his relatives and friends in the center court after Baccalaureate is Rick Johnson.

"I'm through!" proclaims Bill Newberry to Coach Nicolazzi after commencement.

Marches Through Final Week Together

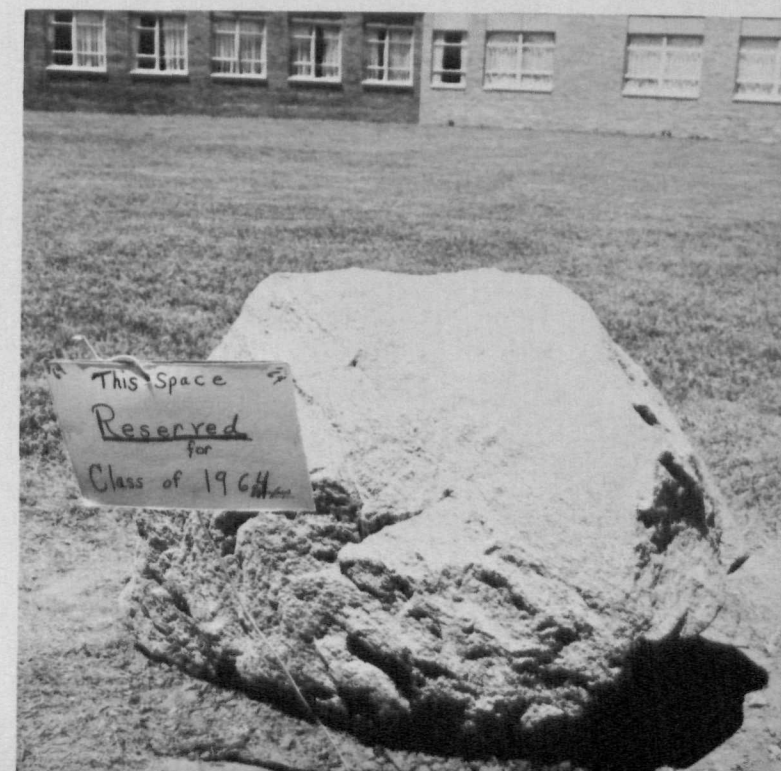

The activities started Saturday, June 6, with the senior banquet. Instead of having a speaker, various seniors reminisced about memorable events that happened during the class' four years in high school.

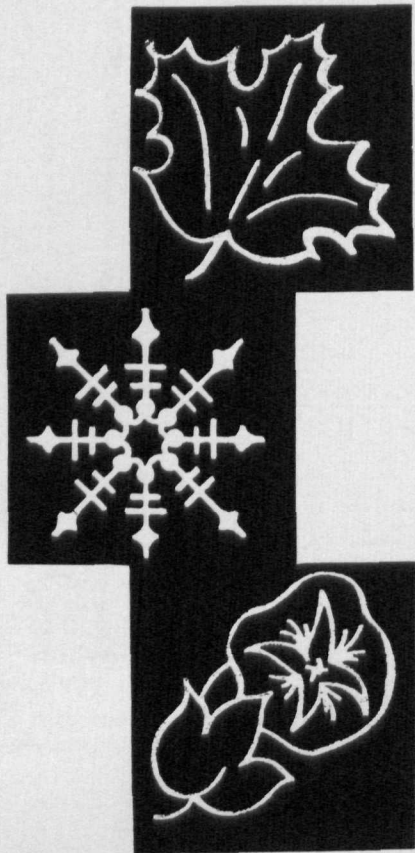

Baccalaureate came the next day, and the tempo mounted. The Reverend G. Edgar Schade of the West Side Gospel Tabernacle gave the sermon in which he emphasized the Golden Rule. A new, greater United States would evolve if the "do unto others" philosophy were adopted, according to Reverend Schade.

Finally, the night of commencement arrived. Two hundred forty three seniors and nine night school graduates received their diplomas from Mr. Eugene Knight, president of the Board of Education. Robert C. Knapp, salutatorian, told the seniors this world needs more sincere, honest, hard-working people. In his valedictory speech, Donald G. Marks stressed the importance of education.

The main speaker, "Reverend Bob," Smith of the First Methodist Church, presented the class with three "big ideas" to guide them in the future. He said the vocation a person selects must be needed, one must choose activities which will give service to mankind, and sound spiritual values are necessary for a well-rounded life.

The Rock, which gave the Class of '64 its nickname, sits proudly in the center court.

Q: What Makes a McFarlane Soda Even Better?

A: Two Straws

By its very nature, ice cream is good and good for you! Add rich chocolate syrup, bubbly soda, two straws—and you have a taste treat second to none! Ask Jon Ormiston and Pat Wisneski.

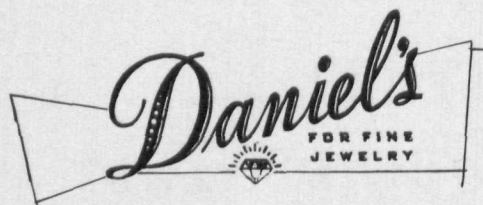

We all have different ways of enjoying McFarlane Dairy's ice cream. One way is demonstrated by junior Bob Blackman.

Chuck Keiser is taking advantage of McFarlane's ice cream in the bulk. You can buy any one of McFarlane's excellent flavors in the pint, quart, or half-gallon.

FOR THE REGAL LOOK IN PHOTOGRAPHY

Who says you must be a queen . . . or a princess . . .

to enjoy quality portraiture by Fleming's?

Hundreds of MPHS seniors . . . and underclassmen as well . . .

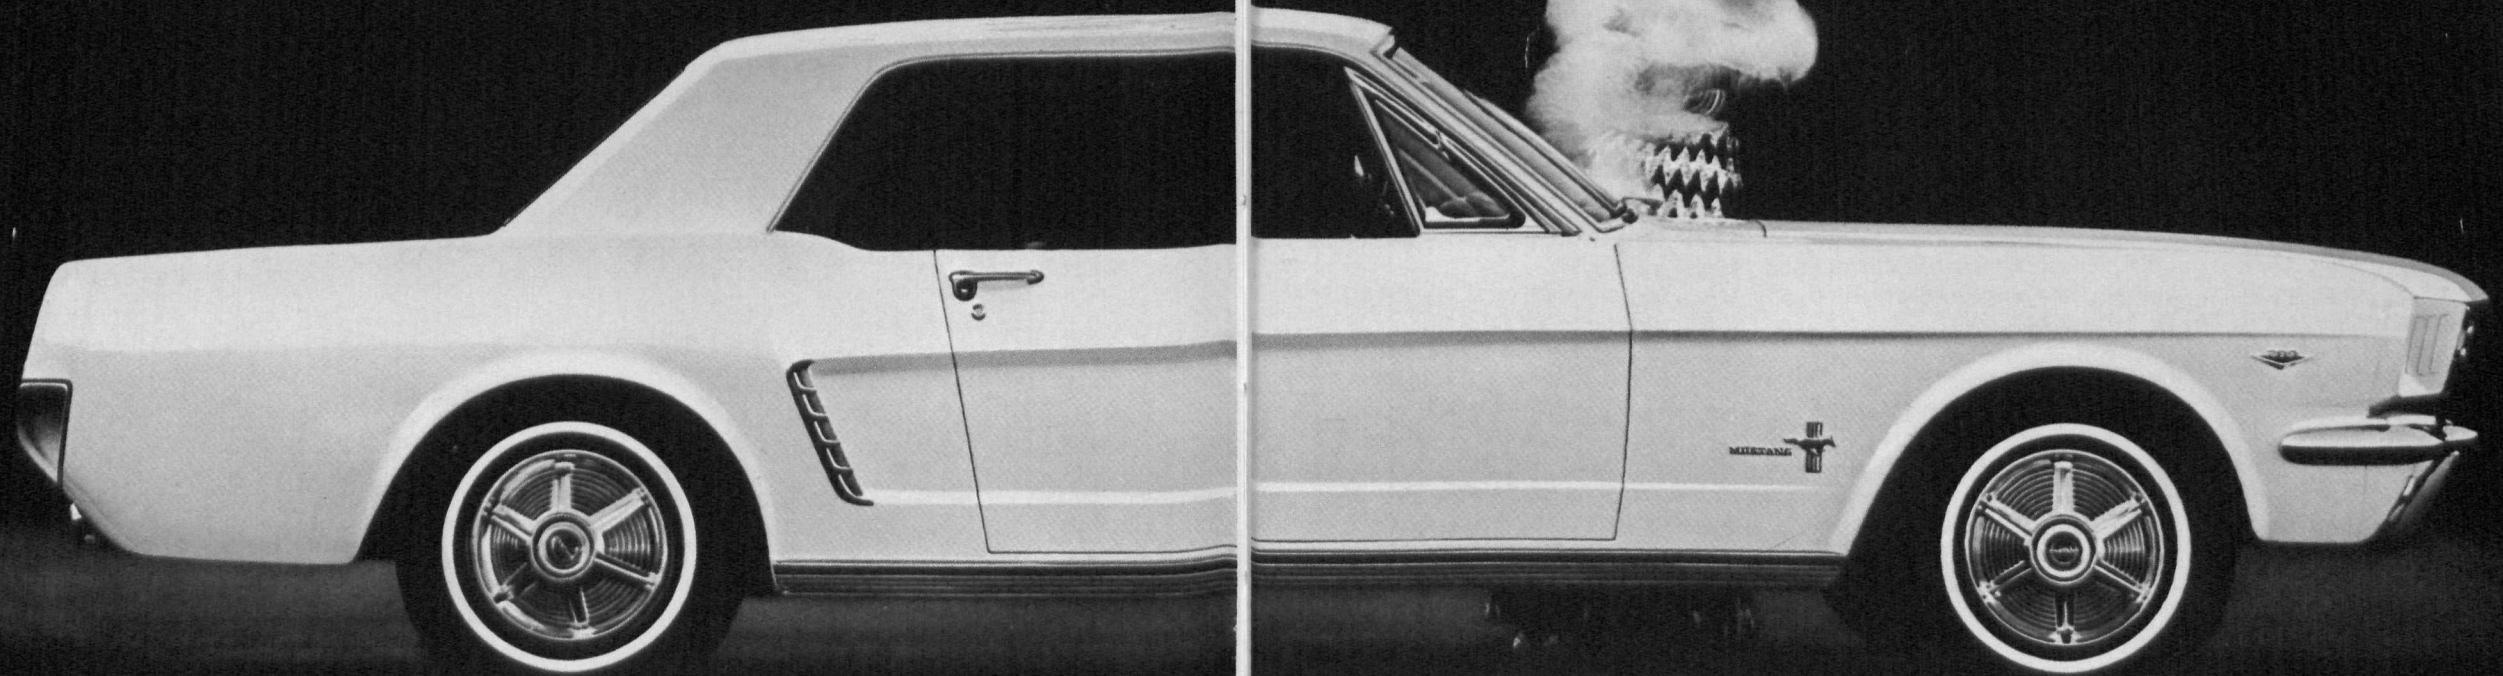

have posed before our cameras for photographs

they will treasure always.
